1. Meeting Minutes

- a. Chair Harman reviewed the topics for this meeting as well as the next two meetings, which are outlined in the presentation.
- b. February 25th for Klamath Falls ASOIT forum at 6:00 pm. Portland Metro ASOIT has not determined a date yet. AVP Dillon will share the confirmed dates with HECC once they are available.
- c. Chair Harman and AVP Dillon reviewed the presentation with the committee. Key discussion points included:
  - Dr. Stringer noted that enrollment growth and retention gains from the current year will not be fully reflected in SSCM funding until the students complete their programs.
  - SSCM funding has many facets. Mission support, student credit hours, and degree completion. Certain degree programs receive higher funding rates than others.
  - Oregon Tech currently enrolls more students than Eastern and Western, and is projected to become the largest of the TRU institutions by next year.
  - SVP Harman clarified that construction costs are funded through state issued bonds. Some projects, such as for the new student housing project, require the university to repay the state. Others, such as the Boivin renovation, or other general academic building projects do not require repayment by the university.

- SVP Harman confirmed that Oregon Tech's out of state tuition is higher than the other TRU's, but pretty much in line with the bigger state universities. Overall, Oregon Tech tuition is in the middle of the pack for Oregon Public Universities and for our Institutional Research identified peer group.
- Differential tuition is assessed by program rather than by course. AVP Dillon requested that specific questions regarding differential tuition be emailed to her for further research. Costs factored into differential tuition include lab equipment, lab space, and faculty salaries.

- d. Topics for the next meeting were discussed. Revenue projections from the state are expected to be available at that time, as the short legislative session starts February 2nd.
