RUBRIC

CRITERIA	EXCEEDS (4)	MEETS (3)	PARTIALLY MEETS (2)	MINIMALLY MEETS (1)	DOES NOT MEET (0)
Grant is focused on adopting innovative teaching methods (not just equipment or conference)	The grant focuses on teaching that is innovative for the program, field, or institution	The grant's primary focus is on teaching that is innovative for the instructor	The grant focuses on teaching, but on methods that continue the applicant's current practice	The grant application is only minimally related to teaching	The grant application does not focus on teaching
Grant outcome is applicable across disciplinary boundaries	The grant's outcome directly creates or supports teaching innovations that are applicable across disciplinary boundaries	The grant's outcome has an impact on teaching or learning within related disciplines	The grant's outcome could have relevance for teaching across disciplinary boundaries, but it is not well described	The grant's outcome primary focus is on the needs of one department but may have minimal connection to another department	The grant application does not address outcomes beyond the applicant's discipline
Grant proposes an impact on a broad/large group of learners	The grant presents an impact on learners across multiple campus and departments	The grant presents impact on learners across multiple departments	The grant presents impact on learners within the same department on multiple campuses	The grant presents impact on learners within primarily one department on one campus	The grant application does not address impact on learners or only impacts the faculty member
Grant presents method for sharing results to encourage others to use teaching method	The grant presents method for sharing results in the widest possible way to encourage others to learn and use teaching method	The grant presents method for sharing results across departments to encourage others to learn and use teaching method	The grant presents method for sharing results in one department on multiple campuses	The grant presents method for sharing results primarily to others in one department on one campus	The grant application does not address sharing results beyond poster session requirement
Other outstanding or creative features?	The grant application inlcudes more than one outstanding or creative features	The grant application includes an outstanding or creative feature	The grant application replicates previously funded or rejected applications with minimal changes	The grant application is complete but unremarkable	The grant application is incomplete or poorly put together